MINISTRY OF LABOUR AND EMPLOYMENT

New Delhi, the 23rd October 1962

S.O. 3321.—In pursuance of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), the Central Government hereby publishes the following award of the Labour Court, Madras, in the matter of an application under section 33A of the said Act from Shri R. Kuppuswamy, ex-employee of the Indian Overseas Bank Limited, Madras.

BEFORE THE CENTRAL GOVERNMENT LABOUR COURT AT MADRAS

PRESENT:

Sri M. S. Abdul Azeez, B.A., LL.B., Bar-at-Law, Presiding Officer, Central Government Labour Court, Madras.

Dated: 22nd day of September 1962.

Application under section 33-A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 in Reference No. 1 of 1960 [NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL (BANK DISPUTES), BOMBAY].

Sri R. Kuppuswamy, C/o The Indian Overseas

Bank Employees' Union, 17, Baker St., Madras-1—Complainant.

Vs.

The Indian Overseas Bank Ltd., Central Office,

151, Mount Road, Madras-2—Respondent.

APPEARANCES:

Shri B. R. Dolia, Advocate—for the Complainant.

Shri K. S. Naidu, Advocate—for the Respondent.

In the matter of Complaint No. 240 of 1961 in Ref. No. 1/1960, pending before the National Industrial Tribunal (Bank Disputes), Bombay-1, received on transfer and renumbered as Complaint No. 11 of 1961 of the Central Government Labour Court, Madras.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33-A of the Industrial Disputes Act by a dismissed employee of the respondent the Indian Overseas Bank Limited (Central Office) complaining of contravention by the management of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The case of the applicant is this: The applicant was a permanent employee of the Bank and governed under the provisions of the Sastry's award as modified by the Industrial Disputes (Banking Companies) Decision Act 1955 and is a workman concerned in Reference No. 1/1960 before the National Industrial Tribunal (Bank Disputes), Bombay. The applicant fell seriously ill and applied for 30 days' sick leave through his father and the Bank by letter dated 15th February 1961 advised the applicant to submit medical certificate and the medical certificate was sent along with another application for extension of leave. After recovery from the illness the applicant went to the Bank for joining his duties but was not allowed to join on the ground that the Bank had already terminated his services on account of his absence with effect from 3rd May 1961. No intimation was given to the applicant by the Bank of the proposed action and no enquiry as stipulated under the Sastry's award was held and the Bank's action of termination of the services of the applicant is wholly unjustified, arbitrary and is illegal. The Bank's action is an act of victimisation and calls for interference by the Court. The termination of the services of the applicant is against the principles of natural justice and illegal without the express permission in writing from the Hon'ble National Industrial Tribunal. The applicant prays for reinstatement with retrospective effect.

2. The Bank filed a counter-statement setting out therein as follows: The material averments in the application are emphatically repudiated as false. The applicant absented himself without leave and without even sending any leave letter from 1st February 1961. As the applicant had wilfully absented himself from duty without any just cause and without obtaining leave for nearly 3 months, a charge was framed against him on 12th April 1961 for gross-negligence amounting to gross misconduct and a copy of the charge-sheet and notice of the enquiry were sent to the applicant but he did not appear. An enquiry was held and it was found that he was guilty of the charge. It was under these circumstances his services were terminated and notice of termination was duly sent to him on 3rd May 1961. For 2 months he kept quiet and it was only on 5th July 1961 that he wanted to join duty. The grounds urged against the order of termination are absolutely untenable. In the circumstances, the contention that the termination of his services is unjustified, arbitrary and illegal and against the principles of natural justice is altogether baseless. The applicant filed a rejoinder setting out further facts and the management filed an additional counter-statement and evidence was then recorded and the matter was argued. The points that arise for consideration are:

1. Whether the dismissal was justified and was in accordance with law?
2. Whether there has been contravention of the provisions of section 33 in the dismissal of the applicant by the Bank?
3. To what relief the applicant is entitled?

3. I may state the facts as gathered from the pleadings and the evidence. The petitioner-complainant was employed as an attender in the Indian Overseas Bank Limited at its Central Office at Madras. On 31st January 1961 the Bank received a leave application from the petitioner stating that he was suffering from stomach pain and requesting the Bank to grant him leave for that day only. Even as admitted by the petitioner he was not really suffering from any stomach ache but he wanted to go to Ulundurpet as his sister's child was ill there. The application was dated 31st January 1961 and the leave applied for that day was granted. The petitioner did not come thereafter for duty, and it was by letter dated 5th July 1961 that he offered to join duty and asked for an order permitting him to join duty immediately. As to what took place between the 2 dates and what had happened to the petitioner during that period there is controversy. As the petitioner who had gone on one day's leave did not come for duty on and from 1st February 1961, the Bank wrote to him a letter dated 7th February 1961 by registered post stating that he had absented himself from duty from 1st February 1961 without submitting leave application and he should report for duty on or before 10th February 1961 submitting his leave application along with the necessary medical certificate failing which he will be treated as having left their services without notice. The necessity for mentioning the medical certificate in this letter is the fact that the petitioner had stated that he was suffering from stomach pain in his leave application dated 31st January 1961. Ex. M. 2(a) is copy of the letter. Ex. M. 2 is the cover containing the letter sent by registered post and addressed to the petitioner at 51, Masoodi St., Saidapet, Madras, being the address noted in the Bank's registers as the address of the petitioner. The registered cover was returned to the sender with the postal endorsement "left". The Bank received on 15th February 1961 a letter dated 13th February 1961 from S. T. Raju, the father of the petitioner giving his address as "c/o T. V. Kittasamy, H.C. 2043, Ulundurpet Police Station, South Arcot" and S. T. Raju states in that letter that his son R. Kuppuswamy (petitioner) is in a very bad physical condition on account of stomach ache at the above said address (that is, Ulundurpet address), that while being taken to hospital he slipped and fell down and there has been dislocation of the arm and he is therefore in a condition in which he is unable to write and unable to walk and therefore he, the father, requests the grant to the son of one month leave and that at the time of joining duty, the medical certificate would be produced. Evidently the certificate referred to is the certificate of fitness to join duty. This letter Ex. M. 3 though purporting to have been written from Ulundurpet was according to the petitioner's father delivered by him personally at the office of the Bank. The Bank then sent letter Ex. W. 1 dated 15th February, 1961 addressed to the petitioner to produce the necessary medical certificate forthwith for the consideration of the Bank. After this the next communication received by the Bank is the letter of the petitioner dated 5th July 1961 offering to join duty written from an address at Kunrathur near Poonamallee. According to petitioner his father S. T. Raju sent letter dated 2nd March 1961 to the Bank enclosing a medical certificate called for in the Bank's letter dated 15th February 1961 and asking leave for his son until he got well. Petitioner has produced Ex. W. 2 stated to be carbon copy of the letter dated 2nd March 1961 written to the Bank and Ex. W. 2(a) a certificate of posting of that letter and the certificate of posting which is dated 2nd March 1961 certifies the posting of one cover addressed to the Assistant General Manager, The Indian Overseas Bank Ltd., No. 151, Mount Road, Madras-2. The certificate bears the postal seal of the Madras Airport Post Office. The entire case of the petitioner rests on this letter dated 2nd March 1961 original of Ex. W. 2 stated to have been sent by post on 2nd March 1961 along with medical certificate. The Bank denies ever having received either the letter or the medical certificate stated to have been enclosed along with it. The question whether the letter original of Ex. W. 2 was in fact sent or whether the entire evidence as to sending of such a letter is concocted as the Bank would have it is important in view of the action taken by the Bank. It may be stated even here that the petitioner who has produced Ex. W. 2 a carbon copy of the letter, has not produced a copy of the medical certificate stated to have been enclosed nor has he examined the doctor who granted the certificate. The Bank wrote on 6th March 1961 to the Petitioner to the Ulundurpet address referring him to their letter dated 15th February 1961 and once again instructing the petitioner to forward the necessary medical certificate forthwith for the Bank's consideration. Ex. M. 9 is copy of the letter. As the Bank did not receive any reply or medical certificate it sent letter dated 21st March 1961 by registered post again to the Ulundurpet address stating that petitioner had not so far produced the medical certificate in support of the leave applied for by him and the 30 days' leave applied for by his father had expired already and in the circumstances he was instructed to report for duty on or before 1st April 1961 failing which he would be treated as having left their service without notice. This letter sent by registered post was returned to the Bank. The endorsements on the cover show that the postman was making enquiries from 27th March 1961 and the final endorsement dated 5th April 1961 is to the effect that the whereabouts of the addressee are not known. Ex. M. 4 is the returned registered cover. Ex. M. 4 (a) is copy of the letter sent in that cover. There was no letter from the petitioner and he did not join duty and there were also no enquiries from him. The position on 1st April 1961 was that for 2 months petitioner was absent and excepting an application dated 13th February 1961 for leave sent by his father giving Ulundurpet address no other communication was received by the Bank. The Bank started disciplinary proceedings on 12th April 1961 and the position on that date was the petitioner had not joined duty and had not produced the medical certificate called for by letter dated 13th February 1961 and had not made any enquiries at the Bank as to what orders had been passed on the leave application sent by his father. If the petitioner was really ill and unable to move about as is now sought to be made out, his father who delivered the leave application dated 13th February 1961 at the Bank could have come over to the Bank and ascertained the nature of the orders. The petitioner's brother Subramaniam is employed in the Indian Overseas Bank Co-operative Society attached to the Bank and situate in the very same Central Office building and through him also the petitioner or his father could have ascertained what orders had been passed by the Bank on the leave application. The petitioner and his father are on good terms with his brother. According to petitioner after stay for some time at Ulundurpet in the house of his sister married to the Head Constable there, he shifted to Kunrathur near Poonamallee where another sister is given in marriage and the Kunrathur address is given in Ex. W. 2 the copy of the controversial letter dated 2nd March 1961 stated to have been sent along with medical certificate.

4. The Bank sent charges by letter dated 12th April 1961. In the letter the charge against the petitioner was stated thus: "That you R. Kuppaswamy, are guilty of gross negligence amounting to gross-misconduct in that you absented yourself without leave or any intimation to the Bank from 1st February 1961 and that when by a belated letter dated 13th February 1961 your father requested the Bank to grant you leave for 30 days, you were asked to produce medical certificate and that in spite of reminders you failed to produce the same and that even on expiry of the 30 days you failed to join duty even though 6 weeks have elapsed since then." The employee was required to forward his explanation to this charge in writing so as to reach the Bank on or before 21st April 1961 and let in evidence if any in his defence at the enquiry into the said charges that will be held at the office on 28th April 1961 and he was informed that if he failed to submit the explanation and/or appear at the enquiry the same will be proceeded with ex-parte and he will be bound by the results thereof. Ex. M. 5(a) is copy of this communication containing the charges and calling for explanation and fixing the date for enquiry. The Bank sent this communication to the petitioner by registered post to the Ulundurpet address and also to the Masoodi St. address being the petitioner's address recorded in the Bank's registers. Ex. M. 6 the cover addressed to the Ulundurpet address was redirected by the Ulundurpet postal authorities to No. 4-A, Mohammadan St., Kunrathur and the Kunrathur postal authorities returned the cover with the note "left without instructions. Hence returned to the sender," and it was thus that the cover came to be returned to the Bank. Ex. M. 5 is the cover sent to the Masoodi St. address, and it was also returned with the postal endorsement "left". It is important to note that Ex. M. 6 the cover containing the charges was addressed to the Ulundurpet address and was then redirected from there to the Kunrathur address. These are the 2 places where even according to the petitioner he had stayed after he applied for leave on 31st January 1961. Evidently petitioner was unwilling to receive the registered cover and therefore evaded receiving it. As mentioned in the charge letter original of Ex. M. 5(a) an enquiry was held by Mr. Kallabiran, Staff Officer of the Bank on 28th April 1961. As petitioner did not appear it was held ex-parte. Mr. M. N. Krishnan, Assistant in the Staff Section was examined. Ex. M. 10 is the record of the enquiry. As a result of the enquiry and the findings given, the petitioner's services were dispensed with with effect from 3rd May 1961 and communication dated 3rd May 1961 was sent to the petitioner and therein it is stated that the charge against him that he had absented without leave and without any just cause continuously from 1st February 1961 to 28th April 1961 had been established and his services are dispensed with from that date and he will not be eligible for any salary, allowances etc. during the period of his absence. The communication was sent to both the addresses. Ex. M. 11 is copy of the communication sent to the Ulundurpet address and Ex. M. 12 is copy of the communication in the same terms sent to Masoodi St. address and Ex. M. 11(a) is the certificate of posting of these 2 letters to the 2 addressees. In the ordinary course petitioner should have received the communication sent to the Ulundurpet address. Even if he had left Ulundurpet address by then, his brother-in-law the Head Constable would have redirected the letter or sent it to the petitioner. The petitioner should have been very well aware of the communications being sent to him and of the final orders dispensing with his services from the Bank's communication dated 3rd May 1961. The petitioner kept quiet for 2 months more and then wrote letter dated 5th July 1961 (original of Ex. W. 3) to the Bank as if written from Kunrathur inviting the attention of the Bank to the Bank's letter dated 15th February and stating that further to his letter dated 2nd March 1961 his father has written for further extension of leave until recovery and he, the petitioner, is not in receipt of any advice regarding the sick leave applied for. The petitioner says further in the letter by way of information that all of a sudden he had an attack of mental strain which developed seriously and losing all his energy he was confined to bed and he was unable to move about, that in the circumstances his parents had to seek indigenous treatment for him at Ulundurpet but unfortunately all their efforts had proved in vain and his parents sought another siddha treatment at Kunrathur and by the grace of God he was completely recovered from the attack and is fit for duty and that since he is in a fit condition for duty he requested to be favoured with an order to join duty immediately. The Bank wrote reply Ex. W. 4 dated 7th July 1961 that as already advised by letter dated 3rd May 1961 his services have already been terminated and along with the letter the Bank enclosed Exs. W. 5 and W. 6 the copies of the 2 letters dated 3rd May 1961, that is the original of Exs. M. 11 and M. 12. The petitioner replied by letter dated 1st August 1961 (original of Ex. W. 7) stating that his father had applied for leave and the leave was sanctioned by letter dated 15th February 1961 asking him to submit a medical certificate, that the medical certificate was sent along with letter dated 2nd March 1961 applying for further leave for which he was having a certificate of posting, that after his recovery he came to the office and was told that he was dismissed and therefore he applied on 5th July 1961 stating his case and for which he received 2 copies of letters sent along with the covering letter dated 7th July 1961, that the original of the copies were not received by him and that the copies of the letters show that the Bank had completely ignored his leave letter sent to the Bank along with medical certificate on 2nd March 1961 and that he was sending

2 medical certificates stating that he was sick and he was fit for duty now. Under the circumstances he requested to be permitted to join duty immediately. The Bank wrote letter Ex. W. 9 dated 3rd August, that his services have already been terminated and there was nothing further to add.

5. I have stated the facts. The petitioner will have a case on the merits only if he is able to show that he sent the medical certificate called for by Bank's letter dated 15th February 1961. The Bank denies ever having received either the letter dated 2nd March 1961 or the medical certificate stated to have been sent along with it. There is absolutely no motive for the Bank to have suppressed the letter dated 2nd March 1961 and the medical certificate if really the Bank had received them. All the subsequent letters of the Bank were on the footing that the petitioner had not sent any communication after the letter dated 13th February 1961 sent by his father. If really petitioner's father had sent the letter dated 2nd March 1961, he could have and would have ascertained from the Bank in the course of a day or two the orders passed by the Bank on the leave application. I have considered the entire evidence including the evidence of the petitioner and his father given as P.W. 1, and P.W. 2 and I find it difficult to reconcile the evidence as to the father having sent letter dated 2nd March 1961 with the other evidence which goes to show that petitioner did not take any steps in the matter after the receipt of the Bank's letter dated 15th February 1961 until 5th July 1961 when he wrote for permission to join duty. The petitioner relies upon the certificate of posting Ex. W. 2(a). But that one single document does not fit in with the other evidence in the case. There are a number of ways in which a certificate of posting like this could be got without posting any letter and without saying anything more about it, I feel that the certificate cannot be genuine. The certificate was got from the post office at the Airport at Meenambakkam with regard to a letter which could have been delivered in person at the Bank and which could have been sent by post from Kunrathur itself where there is a post office. The need for the petitioner's father to go from Kunrathur to the Airport at Meenambakkam some miles away and to post the letter there and obtain a certificate of posting there is not satisfactorily explained and the entire evidence as to the posting there is highly suspicious. On that date 2nd March 1961, there was no need for the petitioner's father to have thought of obtaining a certificate of posting. The Bank in the ordinary course would have dealt with the letter and the medical certificate. Nothing had happened then for him to entertain the suspicion that the Bank might suppress the letter and the medical certificate. If really the concern of the petitioner's father was that the Bank after receiving the letter and the medical certificate would deny having received them and put the petitioner in a difficult position the proper thing to do was to have sent the letter by registered post. The petitioner and his father had sufficient time to send the letter by registered post. The petitioner's father himself could have delivered the letter at the Bank as he delivered the letter dated 13th February 1961. The entire evidence as to the sending of the letter dated 2nd March 1961 with medical certificate and obtaining certificate of posting is unconvincing and I have no hesitation in saying that the entire evidence on this point is concocted. There was absolutely no motive or reason for the Bank to deny having received the letter and the medical certificate. The Bank was eager to contact the petitioner, but the petitioner evaded being contacted.

6. An examination of the evidence of the petitioner and his father will show the hollowness of the case of the petitioner that he was ill at Ulundurpet and was undergoing treatment later at Kunrathur. Now taking the evidence of P.W.-1, he says that he gave the leave for 31st January even on the 30th to another employee of the Bank to deliver it if he did not turn up on the 31st and went away to Ulundurpet as his sister's child was ill there but in Ex. M.-1 the leave application he has not mentioned this reason but stated that he was having stomach ache. He reached Ulundurpet on 31st morning and wanted to return in one day but he had fever and expected to get well in 2 or 3 days but he did not get well and underwent treatment from Dr. Venugopal Naidu and the doctor said that it was a paralytic attack. The petitioner's father was informed and the father came to Ulundurpet and then gave leave application and received reply Ex. W.-1 dated 15th February 1961. The letter Ex. W.-1 should have been received in a day or 2 at the most but the medical certificate was not sent immediately. A medical certificate was obtained from Venugopal Naidu but it was not sent from Ulundurpet. As the treatment there was not good, petitioner's father brought petitioner over to Kunrathur for treatment under a native doctor Dr. Jagannathan and then sent Venugopal Naidu's certificate to the Bank. Apart from the unconvincing evidence as to the petitioner's illness at Ulundurpet and at Kunrathur it is really surprising that a person employed in a Bank in Madras with all the facilities for treatment in the various Government and other hospitals in Madras, should have thought of obtaining treatment from native vaidyars of Ulundurpet and Kunrathur. There is a hospital at Ulundurpet but the petitioner did not go there. He says for getting a fitness certificate he went to a M.B., B.S., doctor. Petitioner says that during the months he was ill he was having paralysis of the right arm and right leg and this is obviously to provide him with a good excuse for not writing letters to the Bank. Petitioner admits that he was in Masoodi St. in Saidapet and had given that address to the Bank but he would say that 6 months later he shifted to Suriammanpet, Saidapet and gave that address to the Bank. The Bank it should be remembered had sent letters to the Masoodi St. address. The question whether petitioner had intimated the change of address to the Bank is not really material for the relevant communications were sent to the Ulundurpet address where even according to the petitioner he was staying in February 1961. Petitioner had to admit that in his leave application (Ex. M.-1) for one day, 31st January, he has not mentioned about the child's illness, but mentioned a false reason, namely, that he was having stomach ache. No letter written from Ulundurpet to petitioner's father is produced to show that the father was sent for on account of the petitioner's illness. The petitioner conveniently says that word was sent through a lorryman. The letter received from Ulundurpet about the child's illness is not also produced. If really petitioner was undergoing treatment under Dr. Venugopal Naidu at Ulundurpet the father could have taken along with him a certificate from Dr. Venugopal Naidu when he went to the Bank to deliver the letter dated 13th February 1961. In Ex. M.-3 this leave letter dated 13th February 1961, there is mention that petitioner was suffering from stomach ache and was unable to write on account of a fall while going to hospital. Petitioner had to admit in cross-examination that the illness mentioned in Ex. M.-3 was not correct. He had no fall and did not sustain any injury and as a matter of fact though there is a hospital and dispensary at Ulundurpet he did not go there. The petitioner says that within 2 or 3 days from the receipt of letter dated 15th February 1961 from the Bank he went to Dr. Venugopal to get certificate and Dr. Venugopal said he would give a certificate, but he did not take one. According to him he remained the whole of February in Ulundurpet and then took the certificate and then went to Kunrathur to stay with the other sister and it was from there that the certificate of Dr. Venugopal was posted. Eventhough no reply was received to that letter he did not tell his father or brother to ascertain from the Bank whether the leave applied for had been granted or not. Kunrathur, where he was undergoing treatment is near Poonamalle, 5 miles from it, that is, it is a place from which it is possible to reach Madras within a very short time, say a bus ride of  $\frac{1}{2}$  to 1 hour. From 2nd March 1961 till 5th July 1961 when petitioner sent letter to Bank he did not ascertain as to what orders were passed on the leave application and did not ask his father also about it and his father also did not make any effort to ascertain the result of the leave application. In his letter dated 5th July 1961 (Ex. W.-3) while referring to the leave applied for he has not mentioned that he sent medical certificate along with his letter dated 2nd March 1961 or as to any medical certificate having been sent already. In the letter there is no reference also to the stomach ache or the paralytic attack about which so much was stated in evidence. The petitioner says in that letter that he had an attack of mental strain which developed seriously and he was confined to bed. The medical fitness certificate Ex. W.-8 (which is a copy) subsequently produced to join duty does not mention the 4 months treatment. It mentions only treatment from 1st July 1961 to 21st July while in his letter dated 5th July 1961 he has stated he had completely recovered from the illness and was fit for duty and was in a fit condition for duty. The M.B., B.S., doctor who issued the original of Ex. W.-8 saw him for the first time only on 1st July 1961 but the doctor would say in the certificate that Kuppuswamy (the petitioner) was suffering from Brachial Monoplagia since February 1961. It is sought to be made out that this doctor issued the certificate on the basis of Jagannathan's certificate (Ex. W.-10). But even Jagannathan's certificate mentions only that the petitioner came to him for treatment for paralysis in March and he gave medicine. Jagannathan's certificate does not mention the 4 months treatment. It does not bear any date and only the village munsiff's endorsement to the effect that the individual is having treatment bears the date 11th July 1961.

7. P.W. 2 the petitioner's father has spoken to the sending of the letter dated 13th February 1961 (Ex. M.-3) and to his receiving reply from the Bank Ex. W.-1 dated 15th February 1961. He says he had brought to Kunrathur the certificate given by Dr. Venugopal and he showed it to his son-in-law there who told him to send the certificate by registered post and accordingly he sent the certificate with letter, original of Ex. W.-2 dated 2nd March 1961. As to why he did not send the letter and the medical certificate by registered post, his answers were far from convincing. At one time he said he did not send by registered post as it was late and some body said it could be sent by ordinary post with certificate of posting obtained. His son-in-law got the letter written by some body and brought it and he posted it at some ambakkam the day after it was written. There was therefore sufficient time even to send it by registered post. He says he went to Meenambakkam often to see the planes and that was how he knew Meenambakkam post office but that day when he went there to post he wanted to come away to Kunrathur to see his son and that was why he had no time to send it by registered post. All these excuses and reasons have only to be mentioned to be rejected. There is a post office at Kunrathur but he would go to Meenambakkam to register the letter and will then come back to Kunrathur without registering. This man who was very particular to obtain a certificate of posting for the letter would not go to the Bank to ascertain whether the letter had been received and whether any reply was sent and whether leave was sanctioned. The case of the Bank that the sending of the letter dated 2nd March 1961 with medical certificate is an entirely make believe affair and the evidence as to it is concocted is thus seen to be made out from the evidence.

8. As regards the illness about which there are varying versions in the different letters Jagannathan the Kunrathur Doctor was examined as P.W.-3 and he says that the petitioner came and saw him for the first time in March and petitioner was not in a position to walk and was not able to use the right hand and that he treated the petitioner, for 3 or 3½ months, and issued certificate Ex. W.-10. As I have stated the certificate is not dated but it merely says that Kuppuswamy (the petitioner) came to him in March for paralysis and he gave him medicine and there is no mention in the same as to treatment for any period. It is only in the village munsiff's endorsement beneath the certificate that the date 11th July 1961 is given and Jagannathan does not know when this endorsement was written. This doctor issued certificate without any date and this is the only certificate he has ever issued and he does not maintain any diary or register to show whom all he has treated and he says he will get only one or 2 patients in a month and this is the doctor to whom petitioner went for treatment after coming away from Ulundurpet.

9. I have stated enough to show that the story of the petitioner that when he went to Ulundurpet he fell ill there and after undergoing treatment there for one month, that is, in the month of February he shifted to Kunrathur and remained there for 4 months undergoing treatment is not believable. I do not accept as genuine the certificate of posting Ex. W.-2(a). It should have been got up with the help of some postal employee. That explains why the petitioner's father instead of posting at Kunrathur where there is a post office will go to the Airport at Meenambakkam and post the letter there and obtain certificate of posting there. The case of illness should be false. The petitioner after attending office on 30th January went away and then offered to join duty only on 5th July 1961 and for full five months he was away. The circumstances are such that it could justifiably be said that the petitioner abandoned the service and left it in spite of the Bank's direction to produce medical certificate on his father's application for leave. The Bank had written to him that if he did not join duty on 1st April 1961, he would be treated as having left their service without notice and petitioner should be treated as having left the service of the Bank on 1st April 1961. What took place subsequently, namely, issuing a charge sheet and holding an enquiry and finding him guilty are all things with respect to which the petitioner had nothing to do in the sense that he did not receive the charge-sheet, and did not attend the enquiry and would now say he had not received communication of the order terminating his services. It is what the Bank did after 1st April, that is now sought to be taken advantage of by the petitioner. If the Bank had not done anything after 1st April, the position will be as if the petitioner had voluntarily left the service. What the Bank did by way of issuing a charge-sheet dated 12th April and conducting an enquiry and finding him guilty and terminating his services cannot alter the position that the petitioner had already left the service by not sending the medical certificate called for and staying away from duty and not joining duty. The petitioner cannot take advantage of what the Bank did by way of proceedings initiated by charge-sheet dated 12th April 1961. The matter becomes important this way. The Bank employees are governed by service conditions as set out in the award of the All-India Industrial Tribunal (Bank Disputes), Bombay on the industrial disputes between certain banking companies and their workmen known as the Sastry Award and the award has set out the procedure for taking disciplinary action. Clause 521 of the award deals with disciplinary action and sets out the acts and omissions constituting gross misconduct and also acts and omissions constituting minor misconduct. It is only for a major misconduct that an employee could be dismissed or be discharged; for a minor misconduct the employee could be warned or censured or have an adverse remark entered against him or have his increment stopped for a period not longer than 6 months. The misconduct alleged against this employee is that he was guilty of gross negligence amounting to gross misconduct in that he absented himself without leave or any intimation from 1st February 1961 and in spite of direction to produce medical certificate he failed to produce the same and even failed to join duty on the expiry of the 30 days for which leave had been applied for. It is not a major misconduct but comes under the list of minor misconducts, as "absence without leave or over-staying sanctioned leave without sufficient grounds". For this minor misconduct petitioner could not be dismissed or discharged and Mr. Dolia who appeared for the petitioner argued that even if what the petitioner did could be treated as a misconduct, it was only a minor misconduct for which the punishment of dismissal or termination could not have been inflicted and should not have been inflicted. The further point raised by him was that the industrial dispute referred to the National Industrial Tribunal (Bank Disputes) Bombay Ref. No. 1/60 was pending before it, and the banks including the Indian Overseas Bank were parties to the dispute which related to various general demands affecting all the employees and that as the petitioner was a workman concerned in the dispute, petition for approval of the action taken should have been filed and the worker should have been paid one month's wages as mentioned in section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Mr. Dolia's contention is that in any event there was technical breach of the provisions of section 33-(2). It is true that the Bank has not made any application under section 33-(2) for approval of the action taken nor paid the employee wages for one month as set out in the proviso to section 33(2). Even if it is taken to be a technical breach of section 33(2) and the complaint is maintainable, the entire matter to at large before this Court enquiring into the complaint and this Court is not fettered in its decision by the domestic enquiry held by the Bank or the findings given and the Court can come to its own conclusions. On the evidence the position really is this. The petitioner was absent from duty from 31st January 1961 and stayed away for more than 5 months and offered to rejoin duty on 5th July 1961. Petitioner has not explained satisfactorily his absence from duty and the reason given namely illness at Ulundurpet and Kunrathur is not accepted by the Court as true. In the normal course petitioner should be treated as having left the service and that is what the Bank did when it wrote letter dated 21st March 1961. The Bank was perfectly justified in writing the letter dated 21st March 1961 and the Bank's action in treating him as having left the service was perfectly in order. The petitioner cannot take advantage of the Bank's action in framing a charge and holding an enquiry. Even then the management did not purport to dismiss him but had only purported to discontinue his services, that is the Bank terminated his services. The fact that the Bank took proceedings in April cannot alter or convert what was an abandonment of the service by the petitioner into one of discharge or dismissal by the employer. As between the Bank and the employee the party at fault is certainly the petitioner, and he cannot take advantage of the Bank's proceedings which never reached him and which he studiously avoided receiving. By his own acts petitioner is disentitled from claiming any relief and he cannot claim any relief saying that the Bank had terminated his service for a minor misconduct. No doubt under Sastry's award a worker cannot be dismissed if he is found guilty of a minor misconduct but that does not mean that when a worker stays away for months together and abandons service, he should be taken back merely because he offered to join at his convenience and leisure after more than 5 months.

10. It was held in Swaransing Laxmansing vs. Bombay Garage (1961-II L.L.J. page 40) by a Division Bench of the Gujarat High Court that in order to determine whether an order which purports to be an order of discharge is in reality an order other than that of discharge, surrounding circumstances have to be considered, and the more fact that the order of discharge has been passed after the employee has been found guilty of misconduct does not by itself suffice for the purpose of holding that the order is not what its language says or implies but is something different from what the language used in the order implies. In Burn & Co. Ltd. vs. their workmen (1959-I-L.L.J. page 450) the Supreme Court had to consider a similar case. The finding of the tribunal was that the employee H. B. Roy had been systematically absenting himself without permission even long before the strike which formed the subject of the case. The employee was being treated by the company's doctor, just after he had started absenting himself but after that the company was not apprised of his whereabouts. The Supreme Court observed that it was highly irregular and there should have been application for leave but Roy thought that he could claim as a matter of right leave of absence though that might be without permission and though there might not be an application for the same and that this was gross violation of discipline and that accordingly if the company had placed him under suspension that was in order and that on these findings, the tribunal erred in holding that it cannot endorse the company's decision to dispense with his services altogether. The Supreme Court further held that when the tribunal upheld the order of suspension, it erred in directing that Roy must be taken back in his previous post of employment on the pay last drawn by him before the order of suspension. The position is almost the same here. The worker absented himself from 31st January 1961 and an application for leave was made on 13th February and thereafter when the worker was directed to produce medical certificate, no medical certificate was produced and no further communication was received from the employee and the employee continued to be absent and evaded receiving all letters from the Bank and chose to write to the Bank 5 months after he went away asking for permission to join duty. The management had dispensed with his services in the meanwhile. When the matter comes up before this Court for industrial adjudication, it will not be in order for this Court to direct reinstatement of the employee. By his own conduct the employee had invited the orders of the management dispensing with his services and even apart from the order of the management the employee himself had left duty and abandoned service and certainly he is not entitled to be reinstated. He is not entitled to any other relief also.

11. The summary of my findings are these. The employee absented himself from 31st January 1961 and stayed away from duty and after more than 5 months on 5th July 1961 he offered to join duty and he was not permitted. The petitioner applied for leave only for 31st January 1961 and it was granted. There was no leave granted for the period from 1st February 1961 onwards and an application for leave dated 13th February 1961 made on petitioner's behalf by his father was not pursued as the medical certificate called for in reply to that leave application was not furnished. The story of serious illness which crippled the petitioner and rendered him unable to move about and unable to use his right hand now trotted out is not true. The petitioner had been evading receiving letters and notices sent by the Bank to him. Though the management had purported to hold an enquiry the management only dispensed with his services and it is a case of termination and not one of dismissal. The worker himself had abandoned service even before the orders dispensing him with his services were passed by the management. Even if the termination is treated as a dismissal which view I am not inclined to take, the termination did not take operative effect because the employee had absented himself and abandoned service earlier. As the worker had absented himself and left service even before the order of termination was passed, it is really not a case of dismissal or discharge by the employer to attract the provisions of section 33 and to enable the employee to file a complaint under section 33-A. Even if it is treated as a case of discharge or dismissal by the employer and the complaint is held to be maintainable, on a consideration of the entire evidence placed before this Court, the Court is of the view that the case of the employee as regards his non-employment has to fail, and he is not entitled to any relief. In the result the complaint is dismissed. I make no order as to costs. There will be an award accordingly.

Statement of Particulars of Dispute

1. Names and addresses of the parties to the dispute

(a) Legal & General Assurance Society Ltd., Gresham Assurance House, Sir Phirozshah Mehta Road, Bombay 1, hereinafter called the Company, and

(b) the Workmen employed under it represented by the General Insurance Employees Union, 35B, Lakhanî Terrace, 2nd Floor, 34, Cawasji Patel Street, Bombay-1, hereinafter called the Union.

2. Under the settlement dated 10th September, 1962 reached between the parties before the Conciliation Officer (Central), it was inter alia agreed to refer the following demand regarding gratuity for adjudication to a Tribunal under section 10(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act:

"Whether the following demand of the Union is justified and if so to what relief they are entitled".

Demand:—The Society shall introduce gratuity provision at the rate of one month's salary with allowance for each year of service at the time of retirement, disability, death, resignation or termination of service by the Society as the case may be. For the purpose of calculation of gratuity the last salary with allowance drawn by the employee should be taken into account.

3. Total number of employees employed in the undertaking is—45.

4. An estimate of the workmen who are likely to be affected by the dispute—29.

5. The efforts made by the parties themselves to adjust the dispute are as follows:—

The General Insurance Employees' Union, Bombay had presented a charter of demands regarding the service conditions of the employees on the Company in December, 1960. This was considered early in 1961 by the then Regional Commissioner (Central) Shri S. C. Gupta, who had submitted a failure report on 4th March, 1961. The Government had not agreed to refer the dispute for adjudication vide their letter No. 70(4)/61/LR. 4, dated 3rd May, 1961. After this there were mutual discussions to settle the dispute amicably and a tentative agreement was reached, but there was difference of opinion regarding some matters particularly gratuity. The union again referred the case to the Conciliation Officer (Central) on 27th July, 1962 and the matter was again discussed before Shri J. N. Gupta, Conciliation Officer (Central-II), Bombay. As there were fundamental differences between the parties over the demand of gratuity, it has been decided to refer the demand of gratuity to adjudication under Section 10(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. Both parties therefore made this application under sub-section (2) of Section 10 of the I.D. Act, 1947.
